

JOIN THE ARTHOUSE MOVEMENT'S CALL TO DEFEND DEMOCRACY, EQUITY AND DIALOGUE

"[...] we must understand ourselves as cinema activists to collectively advocate across all geographical, political, and social boundaries for the expansion of our horizons and viewpoints: with the intelligent, exciting, and moving stories, and the history that (arthouse) cinema has to offer."

Wim Wenders, Filmmaker

In the face of rising anti-democratic sentiment, populism, polarisation and increasing violence against minorities, dissidents, and artists, we – the global arthouse movement – stand united in our commitment to defend the ideals of a free and open society and of respectful dialogue across borders and cultures.

As independent cinemas, we – together with audiences across the world – work daily to shine a light on democracy, equity, and liberty. We stand firmly with those whose voices are being silenced.

Arthouse cinemas are portals into worlds beyond our own. Serving as essential cultural hubs in their local communities, they provide a unique space for discovery, opening windows to new stories, perspectives, and encounters.

On European Arthouse Cinema Day, we call on political decision makers and communities everywhere to

- protect free speech and artistic expression, as the foundation of a vibrant cultural landscape.
- further respect and appreciation for diverse perspectives, identities, and ways of life, fostering a culture of inclusion and empathy.
- foster dialogue and exchange across communities, cultures, and borders, to build understanding, respect, and appreciation for worlds outside our own.
- ensure the safety of audiovisual artists and cultural workers, who advance and protect our shared cultural heritage.
- support and safeguard essential cultural venues, such as independent cinemas, as the heart chambers of free culture and society.

I hereby express my support of this call and the values for which it stands.
